What is Ordinary Time?

Ordinary time is the longest liturgical season in the Catholic Church, encompassing either 33 or 34 weeks each year. Because other liturgical seasons begin or end with movable feasts, the length of Ordinary time can vary slightly; however, 33 weeks is the more common length. The weeks are numbered, e.g., the first Sunday of Ordinary Time, the second Sunday of Ordinary Time, and so on.

Ordinary time is technically one liturgical season, though it is divided into two periods. Prior to the Second Vatican Council, when the term "Ordinary Time" was formally established, the two time periods were merely referred to as "the Season after Epiphany" and "the Season after Pentecost."

The liturgical colour of Ordinary Time is green; however, other appropriate colours are worn on particular feast days.

New Year's Resolution

We all make New Year's resolutions, I would like to make a suggestion for a Community New Year's Resolution.

My suggestion is that we remain in our places till the priest has reached the back of the church at the end of Mass.

I promise you that we will head to the back of the church as soon as the final blessing has been given. I find the fact that there is sometimes a rush to get to the door at the end of Mass not an appropriate way to conclude our celebration.

In allowing the priest to get the back of the Church before you allows him the chance to greet you as you leave.

At a wedding would you leave before the bride and groom walked down the aisle?

Welcome to Franca Zannoni who is the new Baptism Co-ordinator for the Parish.
